Precious Hubby Love: —

Have been very busy to-day sewing. Accomplished a little — but oh, how busy & rushed I have been. Because it was blue day for me — no mail. To-morrow! I shall more than make up for it. Expect three! Lordy! But I shall have a treat. To-day there was a parade for the 69th which gave me an extra day off, and I sure was happy to get it.

Got my usual illness yesterday. Perhaps because I was home, I did not suffer so much. It sure does make a difference, alright. And believe me, I don't want any too much of that pain.

I think I shall take a run up to Rose to-night. She has been up to see mom to-day, and I am anxious to know how she is feeling.

How is my precious hubby dear? How is everything? Pretty soon now — are you, too, counting the days? It doesn't seem much longer any more, does it? Tell me how happy you will be when I come, and tell me if you love me.

Shall close dear, as I really have nothing interesting to write. Am sending you all my love, hugs & kisses.

Everlastingly
